

The Recorder's toolbar (Creator)

This document contains information on the toolbar, along with detailed explanations of the various functions.

The Creator allows you to quickly and easily create step-by-step instructions. Just click the Recorder menu item in the steplist editor's sidebar to start the Recorder and then directly record the procedure you want to explain while performing the various steps in the target application.

The Creator toolbar will appear as soon as you start a recording:

The functions on this bar are (from left to right):

- Start/Stop Recording.

If you want to record an application, you can start (and also stop) the recording via this button.

The recorded steps are always inserted after the last selected step in the steplist. The Recording button flashes red during the recording.

While recording in the target application, a green frame around the object currently under the mouse indicates which control element is being captured by the Recorder during an interaction.

Once the recording comes to an end, the Editor window in the Creator opens, displaying the steps that were just recorded as a steplist. Here you then have the opportunity to edit your recording.

- Pause recording. If you don't want to record certain actions, simply activate the Pause button. The Recording then remains active, but will only continue when Pause is clicked again. The Recording button stops flashing while the Pause is activated.

💡 To stop a recording, simply click the Recording button again.
